

LNG Jobs Taskforce

Rebecca Brown

Director General, Department of Jobs, Tourism, Science and Innovation

Australasian Oil & Gas 19 – Collaboration Forum

14 March 2019

Background

- Creating secure jobs is a priority for the State Government
- The LNG Jobs Taskforce is part of the Plan For Jobs
- The oil and gas sector is a significant employer, with a strong multiplier effect

What is the LNG Jobs Taskforce?

The LNG Jobs Taskforce is a collaboration between Government and industry comprised of the WA Premier and CEO's from Santos, Woodside, Chevron, Inpex and Shell, as well as representatives from APPEA and UnionsWA.

Santos

Vision

Woodside Energy Ltd.

The Taskforce has a vision to establish Western Australia as a recognised global leader in LNG collaboration, innovation, maintenance and support, exporting services across Australia and internationally, and generating local jobs and business opportunities.

Why now?

Chevron Australia Pty Ltd

Chevron Australia Pty Ltd

Opportunities for jobs and investment

- Operations and Maintenance
- Exploration and Optimising Existing Facilities
- Decommissioning
- Downstream processing and Petrochemical Production

Why here?

Western Australia has world-class energy resources that can create greater economic opportunities for the State.

Key areas of focus

Photo: Shell Australia

Photo: Chevron Australia

Education and Training

Business Development
and Diversification

Downstream,
Future
Energies and Renewables

Technology and Remote Operations

Key objectives

- Creating jobs for Western Australians
- Opportunities for local businesses
- Coordinated training and apprenticeship programs
- Increased collaboration across the LNG sector
- Global leader in technology across the supply chain

LNG Jobs Taskforce

Rebecca Brown

Director General, Department of Jobs, Tourism, Science and Innovation

Australasian Oil & Gas 19 – Collaboration Forum

14 March 2019